A detailed map of Nottinghamshire, England, showing the distribution of people at risk of flooding by district. The map is overlaid with a grid of colored squares, where the color indicates the number of people at risk in that specific area. The districts shown are Bassetlaw, Mansfield, Ashfield, Gedling (B), Broxtowe (B), City of Nottingham (B), and Rushcliffe (B). The map also shows major roads, rivers, and surrounding towns and cities. A legend in the top left corner explains the color coding for the flood risk levels. A scale bar and a north arrow are located in the bottom left corner.
